Commitment Survey Due Nov. 23!

During the Board of Education meeting on Nov. 18, phase three of the district task force submitted its recommendations to the Board for a plan to return students to in-person learning who wish to do so. A letter outlining the new parameters can be viewed at www.lynbrookschoools.org/news/article.aspx?id=123638. The letter includes links to a survey which must be filled out for each child in your family. To make potential changes, we need a new selection from you for this next phase. Please read and complete the survey by Monday, Nov. 23, so we can begin our scheduling work. Thank you!

REMINDER Upcoming SEPTA Presentation: "Setting Your Child Up for Remote Learning"

Please join us on Monday, Nov. 23 at 7:15 p.m. for a virtual presentation with Catherine Juliano, LMSW, sponsored by Lynbrook SEPTA. The informative evening will consist of:

- Learning helpful tools for school success that can be used for both in-person and remote learning.
- Understanding the importance of routines and focusing on your child's strengths.
- Learning how to attend to your child's emotional needs, including overcoming communication blocks, emotional regulation and meta moment.
- Learning some methods of self-care to practice independently and with your child.

To join the event on your computer or mobile app, please click here or call in (audio only) at +1 929-376-1100, 502942880#. The phone conference ID is 502 942 880#. You do not need to be a member of SEPTA to participate in this virtual presentation. We hope to see you there!

The Bern Seiderman Gallery Goes Virtual

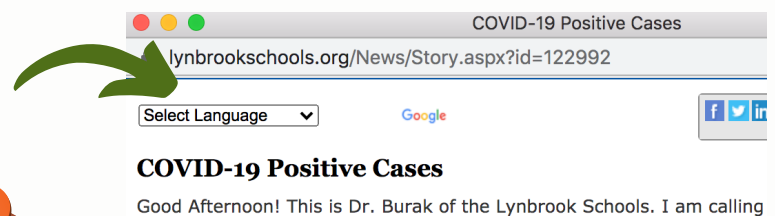

The Bern Seiderman Gallery is proud to present its first online gallery exhibit for the 2020-2021 school year, "Design a Line." The work on display features the amazing T-shirt surface designs and board layouts from Mrs. Goulet's Fashion Design students.

For the project, students used printmaking techniques to create their backgrounds and then found graphics and other images from magazines to embellish their designs further. They created many options and then edited them to create their "line." In addition to designing their line, the students designed a hang tag to create their brand identity. Through this project, the students learned the importance of creating their clothing line in a preview "board" form to get feedback from the customer and to make changes before any samples are made.

Following this work, the students will illustrate their garments on the figure using fashion croquis. Please take a moment to look through this month's online gallery by visiting <https://thebernseidermanga.wixsite.com/mysite>.

COVID-19 Communication

In addition to a phone call from Superintendent of Schools Dr. Melissa Burak, all COVID-19-related messages regarding cases and school closures can be found on the district website under Announcements on the homepage. As a reminder, these messages can be translated into a variety of different languages. When you click on the announcement, the message will open as a popup on the website. To select a language other than English, please use the Select Language drop-down menu on the left corner of the popup.

New Secondary Bell Schedules

Per the reopening task force's recommendations, the passing time between middle school and high school classes will be reduced to 8 minutes. Please view your school building websites for new schedules. The new schedules will begin on Monday, Nov. 23.
